There are some crazy folks out there. The temperature barely made it out of the 30's and still there are 21 shooters on the line. Dave and I were glad to be locked up in the TSRA annual meeting. Speaking of the meeting, Robert Langham brought a display of pictures to the gunshow that was held jointly with the meeting. The pictures were of our matches and most of the state matches from last year. Alan and Michael Wilson stood guard over the table to give Robert a well deserved break. They also handed out fliers with contact information about shooting highpower around the state. They drew lots of attention with questions from many of the passer bys. This may just be what it takes to spur someone on to attend a match and get the bug. Great job from those that worked on this project.

Several returning new shooters to our range this month. Larry Schermerhorn's son, David (soon to leave for the Army), Colin Brofman from Tyler and David and Justin Keys from China Springs were welcomed back. David and Justin brought junior Sterling Shepperd from Waco with them to give him a dose of the piney woods. And we had a crossover at the match, Lance Reeves fired a true service rifle round after converting from F-class. Great to have these newbies back with us .

Jon Rhynard was the big winner as he cleaned the awards table, great shooting. Robert Quinn finished strong to grab the Master class title as Roger Lankford creedmored Kelley Wolfe for the Expert class honors. Sterling caught onto shooting the "wind tunnel" quickly as he notched the Sharpshooter class win. And in Marksman class, it was almost all Justin Keys. Again, great shooting from everyone of these mentioned and to those that didn't find themselves in the money.

March 6 will be the last 50 shot match of the winter as we move into the longer days of April and return to the 80 shot regional course of fire. Looking to see you back on the firing line then.
